

Certifying Internal Controls: Should Nonprofit Hospitals Succumb to the Pressure?

Leading rating agencies have reached the conclusion that nonprofit hospitals and health systems should voluntarily adopt relevant provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. Contributor Paul Gilbert explains why the benefits of adoption may outweigh the costs despite some hospitals' reluctance.

Hospitals and Health Care Systems Outlook

2006 Nonprofit

Healthcare Systems

2005 Biennial Survey of Hospitals and not

-
-
-
-
-

but not 404

Controls,